

Rohde Park

One of the city's leading real estate veterans has a new project honoring his name.

The new Rohde park will be located at 11777 Spring Rain — across from Carnahan Elementary on the Northwest Side. The park is named for the gentleman who donated the land: Alfred (Al) W. Rohde Jr. — a former city councilman and the principal/senior broker for Rohde Ottmers Siegel Commercial & Investment Realtors. His son, Alfred III (Tom) serves as vice president of the firm.

The park will feature a children's play area, and will ultimately be connected to a series of trails and other parks in the area.
